

What is a Dependent Eligibility Audit?

Elite's dependent eligibility audit and verification system is a proprietary Fortune 500 cost-avoidance solution that employers use to verify the accuracy of the enrolled members on their health Plans. Sometimes we find simple mistakes, other times we find blatant attempts by employees to defraud a health plan by enrolling their ineligible dependents. In either case, just imagine if one high-dollar claimant is found to be an ineligible member on your health plan. Elite's system can save your company a fortune.

Statistics show that between 5 and 15% of all enrolled dependents on an employer's health Plan are not eligible for coverage. This costs U.S. employers millions of dollars annually. Whether your Plan is self funded or fully insured, with Elite's eligibility audit and verification system, you can keep your company's hard-earned dollars in the corporate accounts and keep your annual renewals to a minimum. Also, with Elite acting as an extension of your HR team, you can streamline your enrollment process and ensure constant accuracy.
